Monroe Central High School
Farmland, Indiana
Volume XIII

The tornado of April 3, 1974 destroyed our high school, and the remainder of that semester was a bit hectic nd confused. The high school was moved to the Farmland Elementary building, and the elementary schools oubled up for half days at Parker.

This September, fifteen temporary classrooms were installed behind the Farmland school for elementary and igh school use. Students quickly settled into the routine of the school year, and everyone cooperated to make 974-75 a productive school year, even if school was held in an extraordinary place with unusual stresses and roblems.

Rita and Susy

Place for M.C.

Mardi Gras is a festival held in Winchester each year in October. Two queen candidates are selected from each county high school to compete for beauty and talent awards.

Monroe Central was very fortunate this year to have both their Mardi Gras queen candidates place in the top four finalists. Senior, Susy Grove and Junior Rita Jones received 4th and 1st runners-up respectively.

TOP: Rita catches the eye of the crowd along the parade route in spite of the rain.
RIGHT: After the crowning, Susy and Rita pose with the queen, Julie Howe, and the other members of the court, Mary Swindell, and Debbie Berge.

TOP: Senior candidate, Susy Grove, received the honor of the "Most Talented Award" and 4th runner-up.
LEFT: Despite the rain, Susy kept her cheerful smile throughout the parade.

Cast Puts Talents Into Action

December 8, 1974, "Arsenic and Old Lace" was performed on the Farmland stage. Under the direction of Mrs. Ann Butler, the fourteen member cast provided an evening of comedy.

This was the first stage production to be held at the Farmland building. Because of this, practices were often scheduled around other events.

Cindy Sexton meets Kerry Bennett as Todd Simms watches.

Seniors, Susy Grove and Valerie Jones played the parts of the two old ladies, who poisoned the elderly gentleman.

Jim Lewis plays the part of mad Doctor Einstein.

BELOW: Seniors, Valerie, Todd, Susy, check to see where the dead gentleman's body is.
BOTTOM: The cast of "Arsenic and Old Lace": 1st row: J. Hammers, V. Jones, S. Grove. 2nd row: P. Hall, C. Sexton, K. Bennett, K. Reed, T. Simms, J. Lewis, B. Hensley, Mrs. Butler. 3rd row: D. Smith, K. Stinson. 4th row: K. Bullis, D. Sexton, J. Chalfant. 5th row: D. Mills, J. Howell, D. Thornburg, L. Goodwin, C. Culy.

Melissa Lacy Is Crowned First Homecoming Queen

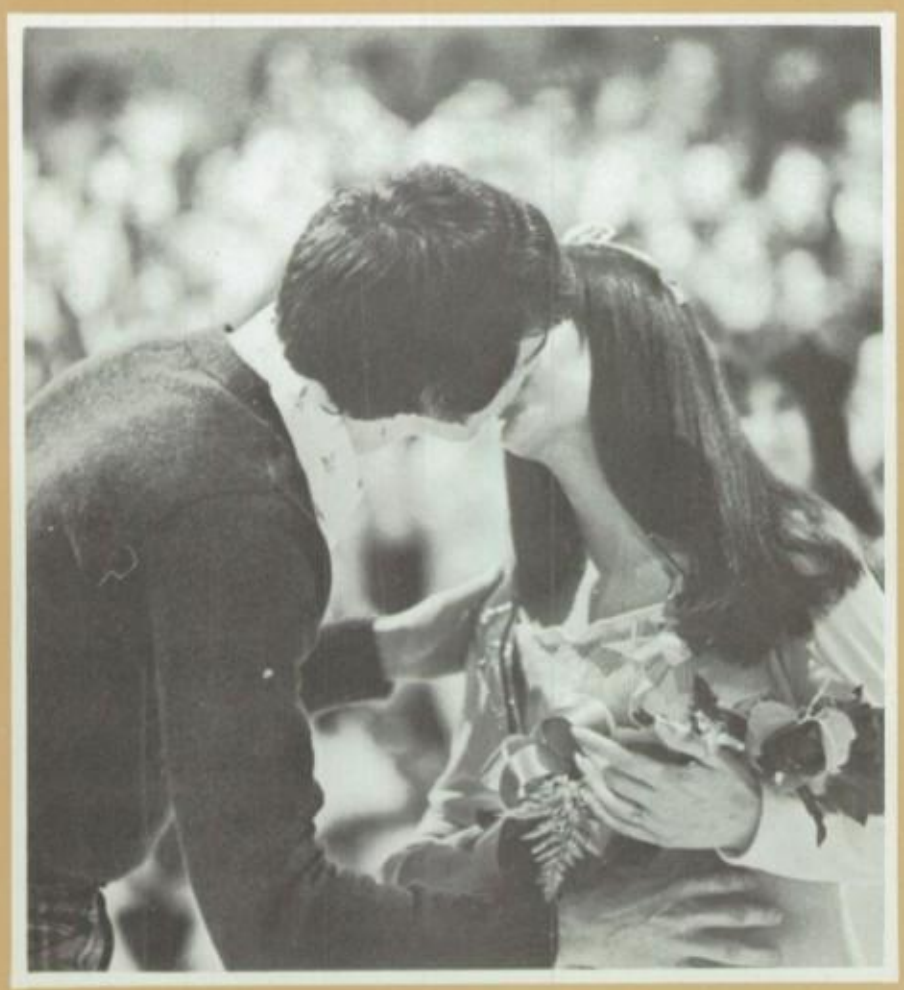
BELOW: Mr. Chuck Moulton, M.C. teacher, served as Master of Ceremonies for M.C.'s first homecoming.
LOWER BOTTOM: Senior Class President, Kerry Bennett gives Melissa a congratulatory kiss upon crowning her.



Monroe Central's first homecoming, sponsored by the Student Council, was held December 6, 1974. Homecoming activities were held throughout the week and a special "Fun and Games" day was held Friday afternoon during the last two periods.

The "Class of 1964" was the honored alumni class for the first homecoming since they were the first class to graduate from Monroe Central.

Mr. Chuck Moulton, president of the 1964 class, served as master of ceremonies for the evening. He is now a member of the faculty at M.C.

Senior, Melissa Lacy, was crowned "Homecoming Queen" by senior class president Kerry Bennett, before the Varsity game with the Daleville Broncos.

The band played "The Way We Were" as the candidates, court, and their escorts were presented to the crowd.

LEFT: Members of the court and their escorts were: Ruth Weimer and Rob Crabtree, juniors; Kathy McQueen and Kevin Reed, sophomores; and Cindy Braun and Coby Mock, freshmen.
BELOW: Senior candidates and their escorts: Susy Grove and John Traub; Kim Hiatt and Kelly Bryan; Mona Liggett and Joe Flesher; and Melissa Lacy and Bruce Mock.

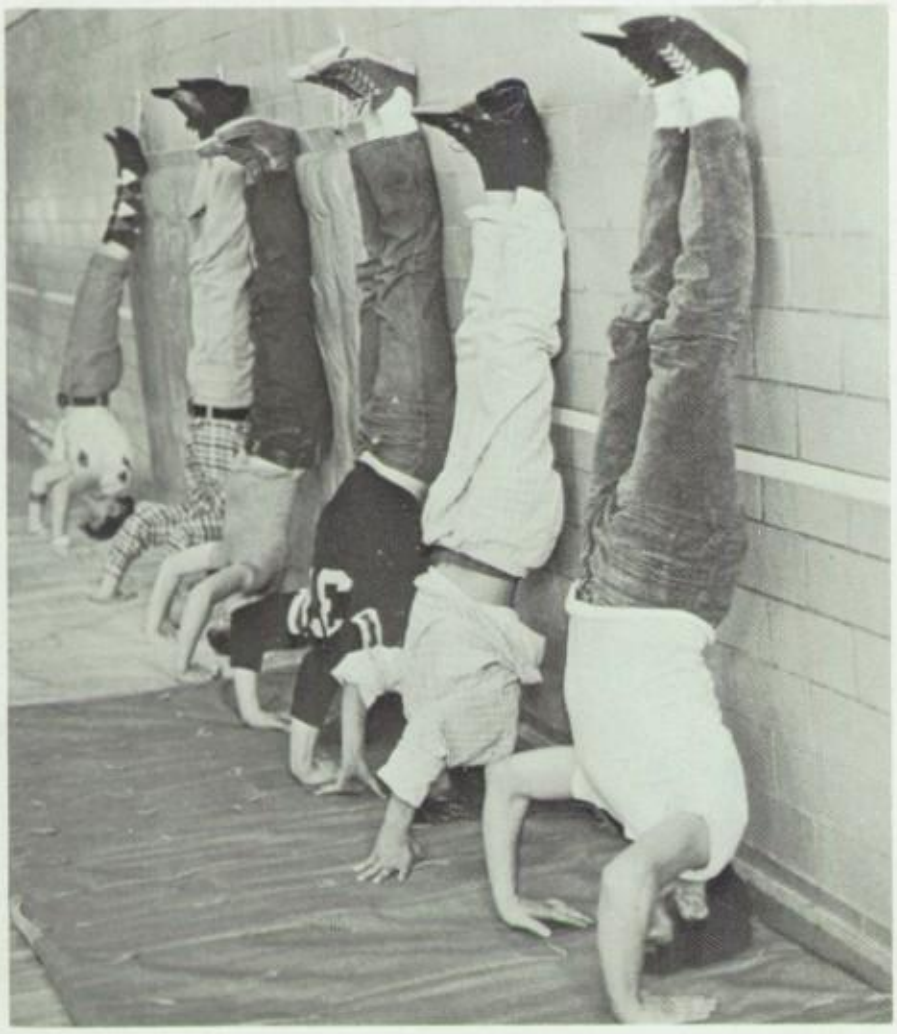
BELOW: Mrs. Smith emerged as a cheerleader of the future during the teacher's skit.

RIGHT: Mary, Susy, Kim, and Mona get ready to participate in the sleeping bag contest.

"Crazy Day" Picks Up Spirit



Along with the Homecoming activities, a special day labeled as "Crazy Day" helped to build spirit for our first "Homecoming."

The activities were held in the afternoon before the game. The entire student body was dismissed for the last two periods of the day for fun and games.

Each class participated in the games and contests. These included such things as: the pie-eating contest, the sleeping bag contest, the coke drinking contest, etc.

The "Class of '77" won the "Most Spirited Class Award" by accumulating the most points from the contests.

The Farmland Gym was the scene of the 1975 musical, THE MUSIC MAN. Performances were held on April 24 and 25 before good crowds.

Cast members and the stage crew worked many nights until midnight to create a combination stage and floor production which took skill and fast-paced organization in arranging sets for the various scenes.

The music was familiar to all, and the cast captured the mood of the show in true professional style.

Mr. Mark Schweickhart was in charge of music and Miss Margaret Newton did a tremendous job as director.

Robbins, Brown Tackle New Problems

With a year of unusual happenings past, Mr. John Robbins, principal, faced the endless duties of the school year, seeing to it that both pleasure and discipline were carried out in the school.

Our school system owes a great deal to Mr. Frank Brown, our assistant principal. He was responsible for seeing to it that the new modular buildings and school facilities worked out.

Mr. John Robbins served as our principal for his second year.

Small Office Continues to Run Smoothly

RIGHT: Ready to help is the school's faithful secretary, Mrs. Nancy Hernly.

Crammed into smaller quarters, the M.C. office continued to run smoothly. Mrs. Nancy Hernly saw to it that student needs were taken care of which included things such as selling pencils, typing letters, running off papers, keeping books and generally keeping everything under control.

Mr. Dick Meister helped confused students in matters of curriculum guidance. Many seniors found his advice useful as they were deciding their future careers.

Mr. Marvin Weimer had the awesome task of keeping the school clean. This could include anything from sweeping the halls to fixing a light switch.

Fourteen bus drivers delivered elementary and high school students to school. Their job often included driving to school functions and keeping order on their busses.

Mr. Marvin Weimer kept the school tidy.

M.C. cooks prepared nutritious meals daily for over 700 students. This included the elementary and high school students.

Some of the equipment from the destroyed school was saved, but the facilities were overcrowded compared to the old school.

Under the conditions, the cooks did a tremendous job.

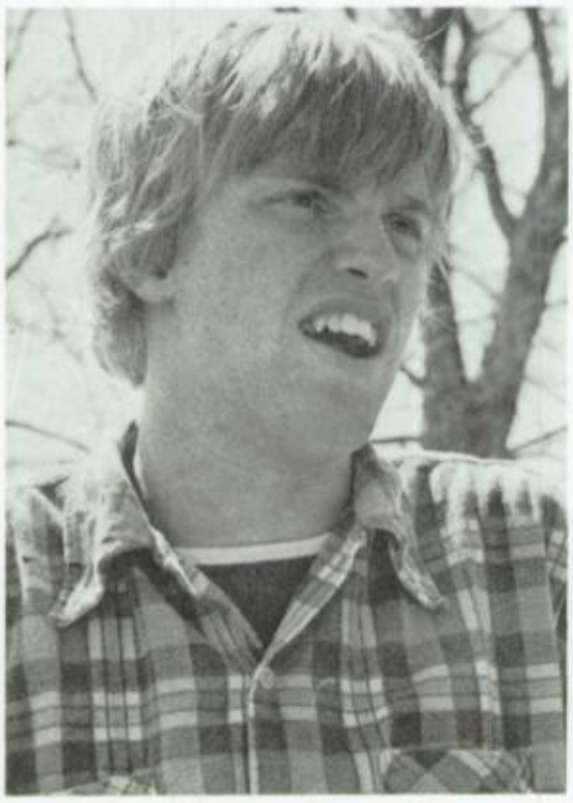
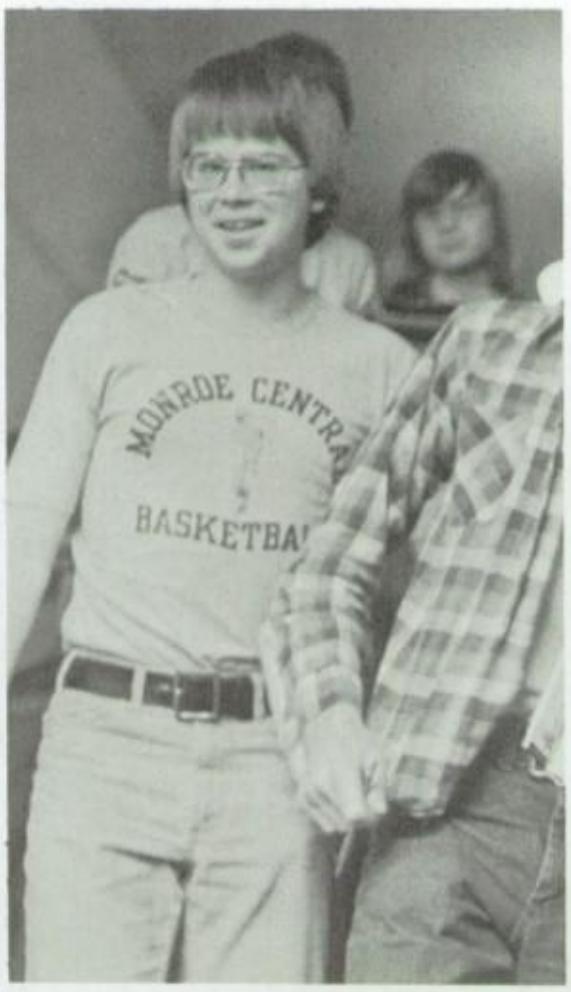
SENIORS seniors SENIORS





It Matters Not What We Are Thought To Be, But What We Are.

President, Kerry Bennett (seated), along with Susy Grove, Vice-President; Kim Hiatt, Treasurer; Mona Liggett, Reporter; and Vicki Starr, Secretary, led the senior class through their various activities.

We began our six years at M.C., as shy, confused seventh graders.

As we matured, our minds expanded to those things important to us.

We were able to accomplish much by working together as a class.

As we graduate, we leave as individuals with minds of our own.

We stand for what our motto states:
"It Matters Not What You Are Thought To Be, But What You Are."

Members of the senior class meet for an informal picture in the fall.

IN THE GROUP

Under the leadership of president David Gard, and with the help of their sponsor, Mr. Wood, the student council was able to sponsor many activities.

The student council furnished the Pepsi machine for students' enjoyment during the noon hours.

Monroe Central's first homecoming was planned and carried out by the council in December.

The annual banquet was held at Hagerstown in May.

The council would like to wish Mr. Wood enjoyment in his retirement.

Student Council Sponsors First Homecoming

"Shape Up or Ship Out" Through F.H.A.

This year the Future Homemakers of America used the slogan "Shape Up or Ship Out" as their theme. Monthly meetings emphasized personal physical improvement. Various activities such as a style show, make-up demonstrations, and a hair demonstration introduced to the girls the kind of personal improvement each girl could make.

A visit to the Delaware County Orphanage at Christmas was especially enjoyable for the members. Officers and members attended the Fall and Spring District's meetings. Mrs. Carol Gilmore was the sponsor.

RIGHT: Kim Keister listens as the members discuss plans for F.H.A. Week.

An active organization at Monroe Central is the Future Farmers of America. The group sponsored many activities throughout the year.

Popcorn, Coke, and candy were sold during all home ballgames by the F.F.A. This is their major moneymaking activity.

Nine members, along with Mr. Clevenger, were fortunate to attend the National F.F.A. Convention, held in Kansas City in October. President of the United States, Gerald Ford, spoke at the convention.

Members of Mrs. Pat Moore's Art Club helped make our new school facility more enjoyable by painting bright art abstractions on the walls.

Various forms of arrows were painted throughout the halls. They were not only colorful but helpful to the students.

Juli Marsh, president, with the help of Rick Gard, vice-president; Lori Hensley, secretary; Doug Sherrell, treasurer; and Debbie Halstead, reporter, planned a successful year for the club.

Library Operates in Smaller Quarters

Students from grades 9-12 helped organize the library in its new facility in the Farmland building as the 1974-75 school year began.

There were student librarians on duty for each of the six periods.

Mrs. Helen Davis, librarian, kept the students busy reading shelves, processing new books, and generally keeping the library in tip-top shape.

The Library Staff maintained the "Happening" bulletin board outside of the library. It contained news items concerning, or of interest to, M.C. students.

Students Gain Teaching Experience

Ten seniors were given the opportunity to observe and teach classes of their own choice.

Through the Future Teachers of America program, students were able to get a first-hand look at what teaching is really like.

The students taught at either of the elementaries or in the junior high. This was a regular class hour for the students, for which they received grades and credit.

French Club Has Feast

French Club activities during the year included the Royal Feast at which the formal initiation of new members was conducted. The informal initiation was held at the October Halloween Party. The new members took part in a death-defying flight to Paris. Spring projects included a bike hike, the annual celebration of French Week, and a trip to a French restaurant.

RIGHT: Senior, Julie Applegate served as president of the French Club for 1974-75.

French Club: First row: D. Yates, Mrs. Smith, sponsor; S. Ball, J. Applegate, President. Second row: S. Patrick, Secretary; R. Robinson; V. Starr, Vice President; J. Hamilton. Third row: J. Traub, K. Bryan, R. Drumm. Fourth row: D. Duzan, and L. Dingus.

The Latin Club held formal and informal initation in October. Members and guests. were invited to a Halloween party and hayride. In February, a Valentine's Day party was held. The annual banquet and slave sale was held in the spring.

M.C. Vocalists Place at Ball State

For concert choir members, sixth period every day was devoted to practice. The choir performed at the Open House, Christmas Concert, and for various clubs during the year.

Members of the concert choir and swing choir participated in the State Solo and Ensemble competition at Ball State. Leann Osgood, Diana Thornburg, Monte Mills, Connie Bosworth, Cindy Culy, and Cathy McQueen placed in the competition.

The choir also helped in the production of the spring musical and Variety Show.

Students Produce Volume XIII of Hi-Lites

Much time and planning goes into putting together a yearbook. The yearbook staff worked on the book throughout the year.

Mrs. Ann Butler served as sponsor of the publication.

There were always layouts to be drawn, copy to be written, and pictures to be taken.

Student photographers were responsible for many of the action shots, with Mr. Bill Keever taking group photos.

The staff tried to change the format of the book somewhat this year, so they could include more special effects.

Kerry, Laura, and Karen listen carefully to Mrs. Butler's instructions.

Bi-Monthly Publication Sparks Student Interest

Senior, Valerie Jones, was Editor-in-Chief of the "Bear Facts."

RIGHT: Managing editor, Todd Simms, and Jan Tharp, news editor, prepare stories for an issue of the paper.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Kathy Stonerock, the "Bear Facts" newspaper staff published the paper every two weeks.

Due to inflation, the staff had to charge for its publication. The cost was ten cents a paper.

The staff strived to keep the paper of high caliber using good journalistic style.

Mrs. Stonerock's journalism class contributed much to the success of the paper by writing stories and helping proofread the stories before they were printed.

"Bear Facts" Staff changed the format of the paper by printing it on various colors of paper.

Various students stayed on Thursday night before the paper came out, typing, printing, and stapling.

TAYLOR PUBLISHING COMPANY

2616 GREYFRIAR COURT · INDIANAPOLIS, IND. 46220
(317) 251-9321

Taylor's approach to deadline planning is as unique as CONCEPT IV itself. A disgustingly effortless procedure to sensibly control the factions that cause missed deadlines. Can you possibly visualize having all of the photographs and copy necessary for a deadline in advance of your staff meeting to prepare it? CONCEPT IV will show you how to put it all together.

Taylor's CONCEPT IV provides the first real solution to staff demands for creativity that can be understood. It does so by blending the intangibles of layout, color, design, typography and special effects into a plan of controlled creativity. Never has so much creative genius been available to the yearbook staff. CONCEPT IV will show you how to put it all together!

CONCEPT IV brings together, a plant, a representative, an advisor and a staff that CARES about the outcome of their book. Four teams of individuals working together to insure a Financially Secure, On-Time Yearbook of Excellence.

The goal of every staff is a Financially Secure, On-Time Year-book of Excellence. CONCEPT IV's Total Control Plan can insure fulfillment of this goal.

Taylor's October finance plan is a common sense solution to an old staff problem. It simply encourages a blend of "get tough" merchandising and "super preparedness" advertising. Can you imagine selling more books and advertising than ever before with every dollar in your hands by Halloween? CONCEPT IV will show you how to put it all together!

THE
PARKER BANKING COMPANY
"the big little bank at Parker City"
PARKER CITY, INDIANA 47368

1975 was indeed a special year for The Parker Banking Company. The bank had always prided itself on a 75 year-old tradition of community service. However, with the introduction of THE PARKER PAPER, this year witnessed a new high mark in the bank's efforts in community affairs.

Published monthly by the bank, "The Paper" brought both customer praise and professional acclaim in state banking circles. Area news was the paper's main interest and bank customers often expressed their gratitude for the information carried by their community's only local newspaper. An article about the paper even appeared in an industry magazine circulated to bankers throughout Indiana.

For three quarters of a century the people in this area have relied on The Parker Banking Company to answer their financial needs. Now this institution has begun "a new approach to community service."

DIRECTION

EAST ELEVATION
WEST ELEVATION
NORTH ELEVATION

DIRECTION! What does that word really mean? To have the guidance or supervision of action, conduct, or thoughts is what direction is all about.

I want to thank those people who have given me directions during the years I have been involved with the yearbook.

Without the direction of Mrs. Ann Butler THE HI-LITES would not be a reality. She has been a tremendous asset in the process of developing a top-notch book.

There is one man who is perhaps the most important person to the staff. Mr. Bill Keever of Keever Studio is never too busy to take time out to give us photography directions, whether it's taking or developing pictures for us. I do hope he realizes how very much we value his services and friendship.

Our yearbook representative, Mr. Bob Byrd, was always there with new ideas and samples for us. All I can say is a big thank-you.

A yearbook would not be possible without the help of the students. I want to thank all the members of the staff, especially those who came when the glory was gone and only the hard work remained.

There is one person I want to let know how much I appreciated her help. She is Susy Grove. I hope she fully understands how much it meant to me that she was always there ready to work.

Julie, I have no doubts that THE 1976 HI-LITES will be fantastic under your editorship. Just continue to keep coming up with your great ideas and you'll have no problem. Good luck!

To everyone who has been involved with my directions, THANK-YOU!

Valerie Jones
